Cookie Policy

Luxembourg Tech School (hereafter referred to as "we" or "us") is committed to protect the privacy of everyone, and thus to comply with the laws and regulations on personal data protection, especially the E-Privacy and its Amendment. This Cookie Policy aims to provide information about the definition and uses of cookies through our web site.

a. Definitions

A cookie is a text file that a Web browser stores on a user's machine after the 1st visit. Websites activates cookies for authentication, storing website information/preferences, other browsing information, and anything else that can help the Web browser while accessing Web servers. HTTP cookies are known by many different names, including browser cookies, Web cookies or HTTP cookies.
- Session: it expires when the browser is closed
- Permanent: it persists even when the browser is closed. They have an expiration date though and by law (e.g., remember passwords and login in order to not re-enter them every time.)
- Third-party: Cookies attributes usually corresponds to the website domain they are on. Not for third-party cookies—as you probably gathered from the name, they are installed by third-party websites (no way), such as advertisers. They gather data about your browsing habits and allow them to track you across multiple websites. Other websites using third-party cookies: Facebook, Flickr, Google Analytics, Google Maps, Google Plus, SoundCloud, Tumblr, Twitter and YouTube.

According to these definitions, we use only those generated by your navigation on our site or the ones for which you have given your consent.

b. Why using Cookies

We use cookies to improve our website, personalise content, provide social media features and to analyse our traffic. We also share information about your use of our site with our social media and analytics partners who may combine it with other information that you've provided to them or that they've collected from your use of their services.

Below are the types of cookies we use:

- Necessary Cookies: these cookies are necessary for the website to function and cannot be switched off;
- Functionality or Preference Cookies: these cookies allow the website to remember choices you have made in the past, improving functionality and customization;
- Statistics or Performance Cookies: these cookies collect information about how you use the website, such as which pages you have visited, and which links you clicked on;
- Marketing Cookies: these cookies use information about the pages you visit, the links you follow or the effectiveness of advertising campaigns, aiming to present advertisements and content that may interest you.
